CRIMINAL PROCEDURE Professor Mounts Spring 2013

The casebook for the course is Israel, Kamisar, LaFave, King & Primus, Criminal Procedure and the Constitution (2012 ed.) For the first class please read pp. 1-28. Also refer to pp. 984-86 where selected provisions of the US Constitution and amendments thereto are set out. Refer particularly to amendments IV, V, VI, VIII, and XIV.

A syllabus and case supplement will be available in the distribution center outside the Faculty Services Office (3rd floor Kendrick).

You will sign up on a seating chart on the first day; please take a seat you would like for the rest of the semester.

Please note laptop use is not permitted in this class.

I look forward to seeing you soon!
