

School of Law

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, & MEDIA

Awards

Professor Connie de la Vega received the Sarlo Prize at the University of San Francisco's 35th Annual Service and Merit Awards. The prize recognizes excellence in teaching and is awarded to a faculty member who exemplifies the ethical principles that guide the university's vision, mission, and values.

E.L. Wiegand Distinguished Professor in Tax Daniel Lathrope was designated a life member of the American Law Institute at the 88th Annual Meeting in May.

Senior Professor J. Thomas McCarthy received the Distinguished Service Award from the McCarthy Institute for Intellectual Property and Technology Law.

At the 35th Annual Service and Merit Awards, Professor Bruce Price was bestowed the University of San Francisco's Center for Instruction and Technology Award.

Books

Professor Tim Iglesias co-edited The Legal Guide to Affordable Housing Development Law (American Bar Association, Second Edition 2011) with Rochelle Lento. He also authored the chapter "State and Local Regulation of Particular Types of Affordable Housing."

Law Review and Journal Articles

Professor Susan Freiwald authored "Cell Phone Location Data and the Fourth Amendment: A Question of Law, Not Fact" in the Maryland Law Review.

Professor Bill Ong Hing authored "Reason Over Hysteria: Keynote Essay," published in the Loyola Journal of Public Interest Law.

Professor Peter Jan Honigsberg authored "Conflict of Interest that Led to the Gulf Oil Disaster." The article was published in Volume 41 of the Environmental Law Reporter News & Analysis.

Professor Rhonda Magee has published "Educating Lawyers to Meditate? From Exercises to Epistemology to Ethics: The Contemplative Practice and Law Movement as Legal Education Reform" in the University of Missouri-Kansas City Law Review.

Briefs and Court Citations

Associate Professor Richard Leo's article "The Problem of False Confessions in the Post-DNA World" (North Carolina Law Review, 2004) was cited in the recent United States Supreme Court decision J.D.B. v. North Carolina.

Presentations and Lectures

Professor Connie de la Vega presented "U.N. Human Rights Council" at the "Bringing Human Rights Home Lawyers' Network Spring 2011 Meeting" at Columbia Law School, and spoke on the Universal Periodic Review at the USF School of Law conference "The United Nations Human Rights Council: The Five Year Review and the Future of Human Rights." She also gave two presentations on corporate responsibility at the Centre for Human Rights Education Eighth International Human Rights Forum in Lucerne, Switzerland.

Research Professor of Constitutional Policy John Denvir moderated the panel "Facts and Fantasies About Lawyers on Television" at the Stanford Law School conference "Channeling Justice: Television and the Legal Profession."

Professor Dolores Donovan presented "Comparative Constitutional Law: Cambodia, France, and the U.S." to the law faculty at Build Bright University in Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

Professor Emeritus Jay Folberg participated in a panel on mediation at the Department of the Interior's Office of Insular Affairs "Alternative Dispute Resolution Conference." Folberg served as a panelist and facilitated the closing session of the conference "Teaching Law School ADR Classes: Mediation, Negotiation, Arbitration, and the ADR Overview Course." He also participated in Peking University's "Rethinking Negotiation Conference" in Beijing, China, and served as a judge in the China University English Language Negotiation Competition.

Professor Susan Freiwald presented "Constitutional Protection of Cell Site Location Data" at Stanford Law School. She participated in the panels "Individual Privacy: Challenges Grow as Technology Flourishes" at the 2011 Alaska Bar Convention and "Privacy Responses to Big Data" at a roundtable discussion in Washington, D.C., sponsored by the Bipartisan Policy Center and the Center for Democracy and Technology. Freiwald also moderated a panel on University of Colorado Associate Professor Paul Ohm's paper "Big Data and Privacy" at the Privacy Law Scholars' Conference in Berkeley.

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, & MEDIA

Professor Tristin Green presented her paper “The Future of Systemic Disparate Treatment Law” at the mid-year Association of American Law Schools’ meeting in Washington, D.C.

Professor Bill Ong Hing delivered the keynote address “The Prospects of Comprehensive Immigration Reform” during the Santa Clara Valley Chapter of American Immigration Lawyers Association’s Annual Installation Dinner.

Associate Professor Deborah Hussey Freeland presented “Interdisciplinary Paths in Academia” to the Stanford Law School BioLaw and Health Policy Society and the Women of Stanford Law. She also presented “Ethics in Translation Between Law and Science” at the Law and Society Association Early Career Workshop and “Law and Science: A Meeting of the Minds” at the annual meeting of the Law and Society Association.

Professor Tim Iglesias served on the panel “Rural, Metropolitan, and Urban Community Collaborations” at the American Bar Association’s Annual Conference on Affordable Housing and Community Development Law.

Professor Alice Kaswan co-presented “Toward a Well Adapted Future: A Legal Framework and Action Agenda for Climate Change Adaptation in the Puget Sound” for an online conference sponsored by the Center for Progressive Reform. She also presented “Climate Adaptation and Land Use: Reconsidering the Federal Role” at the annual meeting of the Law and Society Association.

Associate Professor Richard Leo presented “Police Interrogation: Tactics, Responses and Outcomes” at the University of Minnesota Law School conference “Police Interrogation of Juveniles.”

Professor Rhonda Magee presented “Mindfulness and the Heart of Legal Education” at the Amherst College conference “Throughout the Curriculum: Contemplation in Higher Education.” She also presented “Legal Education and the Formation of Professional Identity: A Contemplative Humanity Consciousness Approach” at the 24th Annual National Conference for Race and Ethnicity in American Higher Education.

Professor Maya Manian presented “Parents, Minors, and Minor Parents: A Family Law Perspective on Adolescents’ Reproductive Rights” at the Emerging Family Law Scholars and Teachers Conference and at the Fourth Annual Midwest Family Law Consortium “Family Law in the 21st Century.” Manian was also a commentator during a panel on sexuality, domestic violence, and mothering at the annual meeting of the Law and Society Association.

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, & MEDIA

Marshall P. Madison Professor of Law Jesse Markham Jr. presented on competition policy at the American Antitrust Institute and National Press Club conference “International Economics for Antitrusters: Learning From Two Decades of Deep Globalization.” He also commented on University of Arizona Professor of Law Barak Orbach’s paper “Too Big To Exist” at the Loyola University Chicago School of Law’s 11th Annual Antitrust Colloquium.

Senior Professor J. Thomas McCarthy and Professor David Franklyn participated in a panel on effective teaching methods at the annual meeting of the International Trademark Association (INTA). At the meeting, McCarthy moderated an event celebrating the 100th anniversary of The Trademark Reporter, the INTA journal. USF’s McCarthy Institute for Intellectual Property and Technology Law also hosted a reception for INTA attendees at the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art.

Herbst Foundation Professor of Law Julie Nice served as chair of and participated in the panel “Successes and Failures of Mobilization by Non-State Legal Actors” at the annual meeting of the Law and Society Association in June.

Adjunct Professor Susan Sakmar spoke on the key regulatory and environmental challenges facing shale gas development at the Energy Bar Association’s 65th Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C.

Director of the Dorraine Zief Law Library Ronald Wheeler co-presented “Developing Human Resources: The Skills Needed for Law Librarians of Today and the Future” at the Harvard Law School conference “The Future of Law Libraries: The Future is Now?” He was also the keynote speaker at a meeting of the Chicago Association of Law Libraries and presented on developments within the American Association of Law Libraries and the law librarian profession to the Michigan Association of Law Libraries.

Professional and Public Service

Professor Emeritus Jay Folberg is a member of Hamline University School of Law’s steering committee for the Rethinking Negotiation Teaching Project. Folberg helped organize the conference “Teaching Law School ADR Classes: Mediation, Negotiation, Arbitration, and the ADR Overview Course,” held at Pepperdine University School of Law and co-sponsored by the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution and the JAMS Foundation. The conference was attended by 165 full-time and adjunct law professors.

Professor Susan Freiwald met with U.S. Sen. Patrick Leahy’s staff to discuss the senator’s proposed electronic communications privacy bill.

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, & MEDIA

Professor Rhonda Magee was elected vice-chair of the national board of the Center for Contemplative Mind in Society.

SSRN Downloads

Herbst Foundation Professor of Law Julie Nice's paper "Forty Years of Welfare Policy Experimentation: No Acres, No Mule, No Politics, No Rights" has been listed on SSRN's top ten download list for LSN: Poverty Law and PSN: Social Welfare Policy.

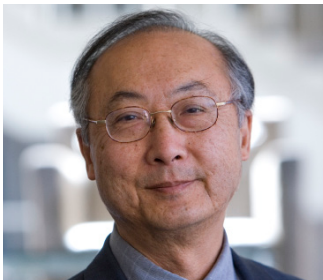

Media

Dean Jeffrey Brand is quoted in the VOA News article "Amnesty, Double Jeopardy on Agenda for Tribunal Hearing."

Professor Susan Freiwald was featured in the Bloomberg broadcast "Taking Stock: Digital Danger," which also ran on Bloomberg Radio. In addition, she is quoted in the Information Today article "Mobile Privacy Issues Come to Capitol Hill—Apple's iOS4 to be Examined in Senate Hearing."

Professor Emeritus Jay Folberg participated in the City Visions Radio broadcast "35 Years of Getting to Yes: San Francisco's Community Boards."

Professor Bill Ong Hing was featured in articles by the Los Altos Patch, San Francisco Bay Guardian, and San Francisco Sentinel as well as in broadcasts aired by the Rocket Laywer Podcast and Southern California Public Radio. He also authored "Legal Workers Arizona Act" and "Remarkable or Not, All Dreamers Deserve a Chance" for The Huffington Post.

Professor Alice Kaswan was featured in the Greenwire article "As Edison CEO, Bryson Survived Tough Test of California Power Crisis."

Associate Professor Richard Leo was featured in the article "No False Confessions? Science Has Found Dozens, Often Wrung From Coerced Young Suspects" in the Memphis Commercial-Appeal and other papers. He was also featured in a Vancouver Sun article on the Atif Rafay and Sebastian Burns' appeal.

Professor Rhonda Magee was quoted in "Making Peace in America's Cities," published in the May issue of the Shambhala Sun. She was also featured in the San Francisco Examiner article "USF Law Students Turn to Dogs for Stress Relief."

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP, SERVICE, & MEDIA

Center for Law and Global Justice Assistant Director for Haiti Programs

Nicole Phillips authored "Michel Martelly's Short Honeymoon" for The Fresh Outlook. She also co-authored "U.S. Must Stand Up to Unlawful Eviction of Haitians from Displacement Camps," published in the CIP Americas Program Newsletter.

Adjunct Professor Susan Sakmar was featured in the Foster Natural Gas Report article "Evolving Natural Gas and Liquids Supply Base in North America Portends New Regulations and Policies" and the Calgary Herald article "Canadian Natural Gas Future Looks Bright."

Professor Robert Talbot was interviewed for broadcasts on the California prison population ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court and on Bryan Stow, the Giants' fan critically beaten at the Dodger Stadium on Opening Day. He also appeared in a NBC Bay Area News broadcast on the Bryan Stow case.

Director of the Dorraine Zief Law Library Ronald Wheeler was featured in the KCBS radio broadcast "Canines Going to the Head of the Class at USF Law School."