

Philosophical Questions of the Past Decade

The year 2004 marks the tenth anniversary of DISCOURSE. Since the inauguration of DISCOURSE in 1994, world events and developments have provided great opportunity for philosophical reflection about the contemporary world. For this reason, the theme for the 2004 volume of DISCOURSE will be "Philosophical Questions of the Past Decade". The editorial board hopes this theme will provide a forum for philosophical interests. Some possible topics include questions concerning war, feminism, applied philosophy, politics, technology, ethics, and time, but submissions should not be limited by these suggestions.

While well-written work dealing with the aforementioned topic is preferred, the editorial staff of DISCOURSE remains open to accepting work outside of the year's suggested theme.

Submission Requirements

- DISCOURSE accepts original submissions from any person below A.B.D. level.
- All submissions will be considered under blind peer review.
- Please include two copies of the article, and a separate cover page. Your name may not appear anywhere in the text.
- On the cover page, with the title, include the following:
 - Name
 - Phone number
 - Mailing Address
 - E-mail address
 - University affiliation (if any)
 - Brief (50 word) biographical citation
- Submissions should not exceed 7,000 words or 20 double-spaced pages.
- All submissions must be cited in Chicago Style A with endnotes.
- In addition to two hard copies of the paper, submissions must include a 3.5" disk containing only a copy of the submitted work and biographical citations. Clearly label the disk with your full name, phone number, e-mail address, the title of your work, and the computer platform used. All submissions must be in Microsoft Word format, preferably on a PC-formatted disk.
- Mail submissions to:
 - DISCOURSE
 - Department of Philosophy
 - University of San Francisco
 - 2130 Fulton Street
 - San Francisco, CA 94117
- Submissions must be postmarked by January 15, 2004. Submissions received prior to November 1, 2003, will be reviewed and given the option to revise and resubmit their work.
- If you have any further questions please e-mail us at: discourse@usfca.edu