

Crime Bulletin
04/18/2008

Several recent incidents indicate that some members of USF's ROTC program might be victims of identity theft.

All cadets, staff, and faculty members of the department of Military Science are encouraged to take prudent measures and review their credit reports immediately. The credit reports are available online at no cost through the following credit reporting companies: Equifax, Experian and TransUnion.

If you discover discrepancies or inconsistencies with your credit, it is recommended that you dispute them with the credit report companies and the company issuing the credit.

Victims of identity theft can also find additional information at the following websites: www.privacy.ca.gov and www.privacyrights.org

If you believe you have been the victim of identity theft here on campus, please contact the USF Department of Public Safety (415-422-4222) and they will assist you in reporting the incident to the SFPD.
