

The Lone Mountain Rossi lab is located in the ground level of the building labeled LMR on the map below. The entrance is in the Loyola House parking lot. The lab is not accessible from the main Lone Mountain building.

Here it is on a photo map. The arrow points to the Loyola House parking lot. The lab entrance is on the west side of the lot. You can access the lot from the plaza next to the Wolf & Kettle using the steps near the Loyola House entrance, or you come up the drive from south off the main Lone Mountain loop.

Here is the view from the Loyola House parking lot, showing the steps from the Lone Mountain building on the right. Pull open the door in the metal gate. The door to the lab is just inside the gate to the right.

