

NAGPRA at 25:

Reflections on Accomplishments,
Challenges and Future Directions of the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act

The Museum Studies Program cordially invites you to a free panel discussion at the University of San Francisco's main campus

Tuesday, October 13

1-1:30 – Blessing, Thacher Gallery

1:30-3:30 – Conversation, McLaren Complex

With:

Hector “Lalo” Franco

Director of the Cultural and Historical Preservation Department, Santa Rosa Rancheria Tachi-Yokut Tribe

Cristina Gonzales

Assistant Museum Director/Registrar, Table Mountain Rancheria

Paulette Hennum

Museum Curator III/Former NAGPRA Coordinator, Cultural Resources Division, California State Parks

Sponsored by the MA in Museum Studies Program
www.usfca.edu/arts-sciences/graduate-programs/museum-studies

We wish to thank the following sponsors:
College of Arts & Sciences
Department of Art + Architecture
USF Museum Studies Program
Mary and Carter Thacher Gallery

In conjunction with “Interwoven: Native
California Basketry Arts from the Missions Forward” on display in the Thacher Gallery through November 1.